Realtor, Entrepreneur, and Motivational Speaker "Stephany Sells the DMV"

As a widely respected real estate entrepreneur, visionary, and thought leader, Stephany DeBerry has first-hand experience when it comes to reinvention. According to Stephany, "I know what it's like to lose everything in business, pick up the pieces, start over, and then come back stronger than ever." With a passion for equally sharing her losses and wins, she is in hot pursuit of a mission to encourage other small business owners as they realize their visions, utilize their talents and achieve all that God has called them to accomplish.

Born and raised in Rochester, New York and having moved to the Washington, DC metro area over 25 years ago, Stephany recognized early on in her life that she was called to help others. She attended Howard University in Washington, DC where she majored in Community Health Education & Allied Health Sciences. After college, she pursued a diverse career path that encompassed roles within the airline industry, the nonprofit sector, sales and marketing and entrepreneurship.

Having worked as a flight attendant for many years, Stephany soon authored a book, Plain Etiquette—Godly Wisdom for Flying, based on her experiences with customers. Through a mix of humor and Christian principles, Stephany reminds passengers that exhibiting common courtesies can go a long way in making the flight an increasingly enjoyable experience for all.

With such a wealth of experience, this modern-day Renaissance woman offers transparency, tenacity, and above all else faith in God that has allowed her to persevere. Today, as a well sought after Realtor of Stephany Sells the DMV and President of Founders, a local business networking group, Stephany is committed to inspiring other entrepreneurs as they reinvent themselves and succeed in their own businesses. To reinforce this objective, Stephany formed the WINGS of Charity, a non-profit organization that is dedicated to the restoration of families in not only the local neighborhoods of Washington, DC metro area but on a national scale as well. Stephany can attest to the fact that the foundation of many businesses starts with faith; she is dedicated to seeing others succeed through healing and affirmation of their God-given purposes. Most recently, Stephany was featured in the Huffington Post and seen on Women's Business Report, WJLA News Channel 7, as well as on Good Morning Washington. Stephany was a featured speaker for the IDKMOS Tour and a panelist for the Taking Back My Crown Conference in Silver Spring, Maryland.

When she is not educating and empowering others, Stephany is a devoted wife to Ron DeBerry and mother to Cameron, Chanel, and pChase. With a clear calling on her life, Stephany is steadfast in her belief that faith can help to overcome any obstacle—this is the message that she would like to share with the world.
